

CORPORATE

COMPLIANCE PROGRAM

JACKSON HOSPITAL

CORPORATE COMPLIANCE PROGRAM

Jackson Hospital and its affiliates (collectively, the "Hospital") believe that conscientious dedication to the highest ethical standards is essential to its mission. This dedication is important because the Hospital is charged with serving the community, and because a significant portion of the Hospital's services are reimbursed through governmental programs which properly require that the people's business be conducted with complete integrity. We are committed to meeting high ethical standards in all of our activities.

For these reasons, the Hospital has established the Compliance Committee (the "Committee"). The Committee will review the practices and conduct of the Hospital and its staff in order to protect the integrity and reputation of the Hospital and ensure the high quality of its patient care and community services. The Hospital also has designated a Compliance Officer to have day-to-day responsibility for our compliance effort.

I. OBJECTIVES OF THE COMPLIANCE SYSTEM

Constant vigilance is necessary to avoid impropriety and the appearance of impropriety. Consequently, the Hospital has developed a Corporate Compliance Program (the "Program") to set standards for conduct, and monitor conduct, in various areas of the Hospital's activities. Although the implementation and enforcement will be centrally directed, the responsibility for compliance rests with each department or service. Ultimately, compliance is the responsibility of every Hospital employee and every independent professional who enjoys Hospital staff privileges.

II. GENERAL STRUCTURE AND OPERATION OF THE PROGRAM

A. Objectives of the Program

The objectives of the Program are:

1. To assist the Hospital in avoiding unsuitable transactions;
2. To assist the Hospital in avoiding irregularities in payment, reimbursement and other transactions;
3. To assist the Hospital's management in identifying areas of possible concern that might adversely affect the Hospital's good reputation, its participation in public programs, or its status as the holder of public licenses, certifications, and exemptions; and
4. To provide additional oversight of the Hospital's compliance with laws, regulations, and special conditions imposed upon it by any licensing or regulatory authorities.

B. Duties of the Compliance Officer

The responsibility for operation of the Program and for preparation of reports relating to it rests with the Compliance Officer. The success of the Program depends upon the active participation of the Hospital's senior executives, its trustees, financial and claims staffs, officers of the Hospital's affiliates, and the leadership of the departments and the professional staff. Through the dissemination of the Policy Manual (described below) and appropriate training, all such persons shall be fully advised regarding their responsibilities for the Program, and the circumstances in which they should notify the Compliance Officer on a timely basis of matters subject to review under the Program.

The Compliance Officer will be provided with the resources necessary to fulfill his/her responsibility for operation of the Program. The Compliance Officer may inquire into any matters arising or appearing to arise within the purview of the Program including, but not limited to, matters involving unethical conduct; irregular billing, claims, or payments; and regulatory compliance. The Hospital's other personnel, accountants, and legal counsel shall be available to assist the Compliance Officer in his/her duties and will report to the Compliance Officer on any matter assigned to them by the Committee.

The Compliance Officer is responsible to and will report to the Committee on all reports received, inquiries conducted, recommendations for action, and all related matters.

C. The Compliance Committee

Composition. The Committee consists of the Hospital's Chief Financial Officer, Senior Management, alternate Department Directors, and a member of the Board of Directors. The members of the Committee shall serve at the discretion of the Board, and may be removed and replaced by memorandum from the Board. Alternate members of the Committee may be designated by the Board for the purpose of participating in Committee matters when a quorum of regular Committee members cannot be assembled.

Duties. The Committee, acting through and with the assistance of the Compliance Officer, is empowered to investigate, evaluate and report facts, and make recommendations to Management of possible responses or initiatives, including disciplinary or other adverse action for misconduct by Hospital employees or agents. The Committee shall review and evaluate the information developed by the Compliance Officer and the recommendations made by the Compliance Officer. From time to time, the Committee may report to and consult with the Chief Executive Officer of the Hospital and with the Board of Trustees or its appropriate committees.

Quorum. The presence of at least a majority of the regular members of the Committee shall constitute a quorum. All actions by the Committee require a majority vote of the members present. The Compliance Officer shall communicate the Committee's actions and recommendations to appropriate corporate officers, employees, and representatives.

Meetings. The Committee shall meet periodically to review and consider any inquiries conducted or supervised by the Compliance Officer. Prior to such meetings, the Compliance Officer shall submit to each member of the Committee an agenda enumerating matters to be reviewed by the Committee. The Chief Executive Officer or the Compliance Officer may call special meetings of the Committee. Meetings may be conducted in person or by telephonic communication.

Minutes. Written agendas for all meetings of the Committee shall be prepared and maintained in the office of the Compliance Officer along with a record of all recommendations made by the Committee.

III. POLICY MANUAL

Because of the importance of understanding and abiding by all of the Hospital's standards and procedures, the Compliance Officer shall make available to all employees and members of the medical staff the Hospital's Compliance Policy Manual (the "Manual"), which contains the Hospital's Compliance Policies ("Compliance Policies"). In addition, the Compliance Officer shall distribute the Manual to designated recipients including the following:

Hospital Board of Trustees

Chief Executive Officer

Assistant Administrator, Patient Services

Assistant Administrator, Human Resources

Director of Marketing and Public Relations

Chief of Medical Staff

Medical Directors of each Clinical Service

Hospital Department Managers

President, Hospital Auxiliary

Supervisors, Billing, Claims, and Patient Accounts

Hospital Foundation Board of Trustees

Others Designated by the Compliance Officer or by Recipients

All recipients of the Manual shall provide to the Compliance Officer a written attestation, in the form attached: (i) acknowledging receipt of the Manual; (ii) confirming that the recipient has read and understood the Manual; and (iii) agreeing to be bound by and to comply with the Compliance Policies contained in the Manual.

IV. REPORTS AND RECORDKEEPING

All submissions to the Committee by the Compliance Officer shall be marked "Confidential." The Committee will submit to the Hospital's Board of Trustees, or a committee designated by the Board, an annual written report of its activities. The Hospital shall establish a confidential reporting system that is accessible to all employees through which employees and other agents may report potential problems within the organization without fear of retribution. In conducting investigations, the Compliance Officer and Compliance Committee shall respect the confidentiality of privileged records and information, and shall comply with applicable confidentiality laws and ethical standards. All files of inquiries shall be marked "Confidential" and maintained by the Compliance Officer on a confidential basis. They shall not be disclosed except to: (1) members of the Committee; (2) members of management or management representatives having a need to know; and (3) as may be required by law or order of a court of competent jurisdiction.

V. AUDITS OF WRONGDOING.

The Compliance Officer shall report to the Committee any prosecutions or administrative actions commenced against the Hospital or its affiliates or professional staff, or any trustee, officer, director or manager of the Hospital, affiliates, or professional staff, which involve or are alleged to involve any of the following circumstances:

(a) Any criminal action involving (i) a felony, (ii) any material crime against the Hospital or one of its affiliates or involving embezzlement or larceny, or (iii) violation of any law relating to performance in a governmental program or regulation by a public body.

(b) Material administrative actions by a regulatory body relating to a finding of illegal or improper conduct by such person.

The Compliance Officer shall report to the Committee demonstrated instances of material violations of the Compliance Policies or acts of wrongdoing by any employee of the Hospital. The Compliance Officer may raise other matters with the Committee, within his or her discretion.

VI. COMPLIANCE REVIEWS.

The Committee shall periodically review compliance with regulatory requirements and special licensing conditions imposed upon the Hospital and shall report to the Board of Trustees any findings regarding such matters. The Committee and Compliance Officer also shall review relationships between the Hospital and its trustees, employees, agents or independent professional staff.

JACKSON HOSPITAL

Corporate Compliance Program Policy Manual

1. General Policy

It is the Policy of Jackson Hospital (the "Hospital") to provide services in compliance with all state and federal laws governing its operations, and consistent with the highest standards of business and professional ethics. This policy is a solemn commitment to our patients, to our community, to those government agencies that regulate the Hospital, and to ourselves. In order to ensure that the Hospital's compliance policies are consistently applied, the Hospital has established a legal and regulatory Compliance Program. The program is directed by a Corporate Compliance Committee and a Compliance Officer, who are charged with reviewing our compliance policies and specific compliance situations that may arise.

All Hospital employees, as well as those professionals who enjoy professional staff membership, must carry out their duties for the Hospital in accordance with this policy. Any violation of applicable law, or deviation from appropriate ethical standards, will subject an employee or independent professional to disciplinary action, which may include oral or written warning, disciplinary probation, suspension, reduction in salary, demotion, dismissal from employment, or revocation of privileges. These disciplinary actions also may apply to an employee's supervisor (or a staff member's department manager) who directs or approves the employee's improper actions, or is aware of those actions but does not act appropriately to correct them; or who otherwise fails to exercise appropriate supervision.

This Manual includes statements of the Hospital's policy in a number of specific areas. All employees and professional staff members must comply with these policies, which define the scope of Hospital employment and professional staff membership. Conduct that does not comply with these statements is not authorized by the Hospital, is outside the scope of Hospital employment and professional staff membership, and may subject employees and professional staff members to disciplinary action. If a question arises as to whether any action complies with Hospital policies or applicable law, an employee should present that question to that employee's supervisor, or, if appropriate, directly to the Hospital's Compliance Officer, or to a member of the Corporate Compliance Committee. All employees should review this Manual from time to time to make sure that these policies guide their actions on behalf of the Hospital.

If, at any time, any employee or professional staff member becomes aware of any apparent violation of the Hospital's policies, he or she must report it to his or her supervisor (in the case of an employee) or to the Compliance Officer. All persons making such reports are assured that such reports are treated as confidential; such reports will be shared only on a bona fide need-to-know basis. The Hospital will take no adverse action against persons making such reports, whether or not the report ultimately proves to be well-founded. If an employee or professional staff member does not report conduct violating the Hospital's policies, that employee or professional staff member may be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment or revocation of privileges.

The laws discussed in this Policy Manual are complex and many of the concepts are developed in case-by-case determinations. In addition, this Manual deals only generally with some of the more important legal principles. Their mention is not intended to minimize the importance of other applicable laws, professional standards, or ethical principles, which may be covered in other Hospital policies. Consequently, any employee who is in doubt as to the propriety of a course of action must promptly communicate with his or her supervisor, or with the Compliance Officer, before taking action.

2. Payments, Discounts, and Gifts

The Hospital participates in the Medicare program, a federal program which provides health insurance to the aged and disabled, and the Medicaid program, a federal/state program which provides health care coverage to low income persons. Federal law makes it illegal for the Hospital to provide or accept "remuneration" in exchange for referrals of patients covered by Medicare or Medicaid. The law also bars the payment or receipt of such remuneration in return for directly purchasing, leasing, ordering, or recommending the purchase, lease, or ordering of any goods, facilities, services, or items covered under the benefits of Medicare or Medicaid. In Florida, The Patient Self-Referral Act 1992 and Florida Statute Section 817.505, apply these same prohibitions to all patients, regardless of payor source.

The so-called "fraud and abuse" or "anti-kickback" laws are designed to prevent fraud in the Medicare and Medicaid programs and abuse of the public funds supporting the programs. The Hospital is committed to carefully observing the anti-kickback rules and avoiding any practice that may be interpreted as abusive. Employees in the finance department, purchasing and facilities departments, laboratory, pharmacy, medical staff administration, and any department entering into personal service contracts are expected to be vigilant in identifying potential anti-kickback violations and bringing them to the attention of the Compliance Officer.

(a) Anti-Kickback Laws

The federal and state anti-kickback laws are broadly written to prohibit the Hospital and its representatives from knowingly and willfully offering, paying, asking, or receiving any money or other benefit, directly or indirectly, in return for obtaining or rewarding favorable treatment in connection with the award of a government contract. The anti-kickback laws must be considered whenever something of value is given or received by the Hospital or its representatives or affiliates that are in any way connected to patient services. This is particularly true when the arrangement could result in over-utilization of services or a reduction in patient choice. Even if only one purpose of a payment scheme is to influence referrals, and otherwise it appears to be a legitimate, appropriate business arrangement, the payment may be unlawful.

There are many transactions that may violate the anti-kickback rules. For example, no one acting on behalf of the Hospital may offer gifts, loans, rebates, services, or payment of any kind to a physician who refers patients to the Hospital or to a patient without consulting the Compliance Department. The Corporate Compliance Committee must review any discounts offered to the Hospital by suppliers and vendors, as well as discounts offered by the Hospital to insurance companies or other third party payors. Patient deductibles and co-payments may not be waived without the prior authorization of Senior Management and reviewed by legal counsel. Rentals of space and equipment must be at fair market value, without regard to the volume or value of referrals that may be received by the Hospital in connection with the space or equipment. Fair market value should be determined through an independent appraisal.

Agreements for professional services, management services, and consulting services must be in writing, have at least a one-year term, and specify the compensation in advance. Payment based on a percentage of revenue should be avoided in many circumstances. Any questions about these agreements should be directed to legal counsel. Joint ventures with physicians or other health care providers, or investment in other health care entities, must be reviewed by legal counsel.

The U.S. Department of Health and Human Services has described a number of payment practices that will not be subject to criminal prosecution under the anti-kickback laws. These so-called "safe harbors" are intended to help providers protect against abusive payment practices while permitting legitimate ones. If an arrangement fits within a safe harbor it will not create a risk of criminal penalties and exclusion from the Medicare and Medicaid programs. However, the failure to satisfy every element of a safe harbor does not in itself make an arrangement illegal. Analysis of a payment practice under the anti-kickback laws and the safe harbors is complex, and depends upon the specific facts and circumstance of each case. Employees should not make unilateral judgments on the availability of a safe harbor for a payment practice, investment, discount, or other arrangement. These situations must be brought to the attention of Risk Management for review with legal counsel.

Violation of the anti-kickback law is a felony, punishable by a $25,000 fine or imprisonment for up to five years, or both. Violation of the law could also mean that the Hospital and/or a physician are excluded from participating in the Medicare and Medicaid programs for up to five years.

In addition to the federal criminal penalties, Florida Law provides additional penalties carrying fines of up to $10,000 and imprisonment of up to five years, or both.

(b) Entertainment and Gifts

The Hospital recognizes that business dealings may include a shared meal or other similar social occasion, which may be proper business expenses and activities. More extensive entertainment, however, only rarely will be consistent with Hospital policy and should be reviewed and approved in advance by Corporate Compliance. Hospital employees may not receive any gift under circumstances that could be construed as an improper attempt to influence the Hospital's or an employee's decisions or actions. When an employee receives a gift that violates this policy, the gift should be returned to the donor and reported to the Compliance Officer. Gifts may be received by Hospital employees when they are of such limited value that they could not reasonably be perceived by anyone as an attempt to affect the judgment of the recipient. For example, token promotional gratuities from suppliers, such as advertising novelties (e.g., key chains) marked with the donor's name, are not prohibited under this policy.

Whenever an employee is not sure whether a gift is prohibited by this policy, the gift must be reported to their Supervisor upon its receipt.

3. Billing and Claims

When claiming payment for Hospital or professional services, the Hospital has an obligation to its patients, third party payors, and the state and federal governments to exercise diligence, care, and integrity. The right to bill the Medicare and Medicaid programs, conferred through the award of a provider or supplier number, carries a responsibility that may not be abused. The Hospital is committed to maintaining the accuracy of every claim it processes and submits. Many people, throughout the Hospital, have responsibility for entering charges and procedure codes. Each of these individuals is expected to monitor compliance with applicable billing rules. Any false, inaccurate, or questionable claims should be reported immediately to a supervisor or to the Compliance Officer.

False billing is a serious offense. Medicare and Medicaid rules prohibit knowingly and with intent making or causing to be made any false statement or representation of a material fact in an application for benefits or payment. It is also unlawful to conceal or fail to disclose the occurrence of an event affecting the right to payment with the intent to secure payment that is not due. Examples of false claims include knowingly and with intent:

- claiming reimbursement for services that have not been rendered
- filing duplicate claims to defraud the government
- "up-coding" to more complex procedures than were actually performed

- including inappropriate or inaccurate costs on Hospital cost reports
- falsely indicating that a particular health care professional attended a procedure or those services were otherwise rendered in a manner they were not
- billing for a length of stay beyond what is medically necessary
- billing for services for items that are not medically necessary
- failing to provide medically necessary services or items
- billing excessive charges

Hospital employees and agents who prepare or submit claims should be alert for these and other errors. It is important to remember that outside consultants only advise the Hospital. The final decision on billing questions rests with the Hospital.

In compliance with federal law, the Hospital does not permit charging for any Medicaid service at a rate higher than that approved by the state or accepting any payment as a precondition of admitting a Medicaid patient to the Hospital.

The Hospital carefully follows the Medicare rules on assignment and reassignment of billing rights. If there is any question whether the Hospital may bill for a particular service, either on behalf of a physician or on its own behalf, the question should be directed to Senior Management. Hospital employees should not submit claims for other entities or claims prepared by other entities, including outside consultants, without final approval from Senior Management. Special care should be taken in reviewing these claims, and Hospital personnel should request documentation from outside entities if necessary to verify the accuracy of the claims.

A provider or supplier who violates the false claims rules is guilty of a felony, and may be subject to fines of up to $25,000 per offense, imprisonment for up to five years, or both. Other persons guilty of false claims may face fines of up to $10,000 per offense, imprisonment for up to one year, or both. In addition to the criminal penalties, the Federal False Claims Act permits substantial civil monetary penalties against any person who submits false claims. The Act provides a penalty of triple damages as well as fines up to $10,000 for each false claim submitted. The person (as well as the Hospital) may be excluded from participating in the Medicare and Medicaid programs. Violations of the assignment and reassignment rules are misdemeanors carrying fines of up to $2,000 and imprisonment of up to six months, or both.

In addition to these federal penalties, Florida law provides additional penalties carrying fines of up to $10,000 and imprisonment of up to five years, or both.

Numerous other federal laws prohibit false statements or inadequate disclosure to the government and mandate exclusion from the Medicare and Medicaid programs. For instance, neither the Hospital nor its agents are permitted to make, or induce others to make, false statements in connection with the Hospital's Medicare certification. Persons doing so are guilty of a felony and may be subject to fines of up to $25,000 and imprisonment for up to five years. The Hospital or individual health care providers will be excluded from the Medicare and Medicaid programs for at least five years if convicted of a Medicare- or Medicaid-related crime or any crime relating to patient abuse. Medicare and Medicaid exclusion may result if the Hospital or a provider is convicted of fraud, theft, embezzlement, or other financial misconduct in connection with any government-financed program.

It is illegal to make any false statement to the federal government, including statements on Medicare or Medicaid claim forms. It is illegal to use the U.S. mail in a scheme to defraud the government. Any agreement between two or more people to submit false claims may be prosecuted as a conspiracy to defraud the government.

The Hospital promotes full compliance with each of the relevant laws by maintaining a strict policy of ethics, integrity, and accuracy in all its financial dealings. Each employee and professional, including outside consultants, who is involved in submitting charges, preparing claims, billing, and documenting services is expected to maintain the highest standards of personal, professional, and institutional responsibility.

(a) Federal False Claims Act, 31 USC § 3279

The False Claims Act is a federal statute that covers fraud involving any federally funded contract or program, including the Medicaid and Medicare programs. This act is commonly known as the “Lincoln Law” because it was first enacted to counter fraudulent activities involving military procurement during the Civil War. The act establishes liability for any person who knowingly presents or causes to be presented a false or fraudulent claim to the U.S. government for payment. The term “knowingly” is defined to mean that a person, with respect to information:

- Has actual knowledge of falsity of information in the claim;
- Acts in deliberate ignorance of the truth or falsity of the information in a claim; or
- Acts in reckless disregard of the truth or falsity of the information in a claim

Claim

For purposes of the False Claims Act, a “claim” includes any request or demand for money that is submitted to the U.S. government or its contractors.

Liability

Health care providers and suppliers who violate the False Claims Act can be subject to the following:

- Civil monetary penalties (CMP) ranging from $5,500 to $11,000 for each false claim submitted.
- In addition to the above (CMP), can be required to pay three times the amount of damages sustained by the U.S. government.
- If convicted of a False Claims Act violation, the OIG may seek to exclude the provider or supplier from participation in federal health care programs.

What is a False Claims Violation?

Any conduct that leads to the submission of fraudulent claims to the government such as knowingly making false statements, falsifying records, double-billing for items or services, submitting bills or services never performed or items never furnished, or otherwise causing a false claim to be submitted.

(b) Qui Tam “Whistleblower” Provisions

Encourages individuals to come forward and report misconduct involving false claims, the False Claims Act includes a “qui tam” or whistleblower provision. It allows any person with actual knowledge of allegedly false claims to the government. Such persons are known as “relators.” By way of example, the U.S. Department of Justice reports that the federal government obtained more than $1.4 billion in settlements and judgments for fraud committed against the government in 2004-2005.

Qui Tam Procedure

The relator must file his or her lawsuit on behalf of the government in a federal district court. The lawsuit will be filed “under seal,” meaning that the lawsuit is kept confidential while the government reviews and investigates the allegations contained in the lawsuit and decides how to proceed.

Rights of Parties to Qui Tam Actions

If the government determines that the lawsuit has merit and decides to intervene, the prosecution of the lawsuit will be directed by the U.S. Department of Justice. If the government decides not to intervene, the whistleblower can continue with the lawsuit on his or her own.

Award to Qui Tam Whistleblowers

If the lawsuit is successful, and provided certain legal requirements are met, the qui tam relator may receive an award ranging from 15 to 30 percent of the amount recovered. The whistleblower may also be entitled to reasonable expenses including attorney’s fees and costs for bringing the lawsuit.

No Retaliation

In addition to a financial award, the False Claims Act entitles whistleblowers to additional relief, including employment reinstatement, back pay, and any other compensation arising from retaliatory conduct against a whistleblower for filing an action under the False Claims Act or committing other lawful acts, such as investigating a false claim or providing testimony for, or assistance in, a False Claim Act action.

(c) Laboratory Billing

The Hospital recognizes that physicians must be able to order any tests, including screening tests that they believe are appropriate for the treatment of their patients. However, we believe that physicians must be made aware that Medicare will only pay for tests that meet the Medicare definition of “medical necessity” and that Medicare may deny payment for a test that the physician believes is appropriate but which does not meet the Medicare definition of medical necessity. The laboratory will standardize its non-customized test offerings and encourage doctors to order, to the extent possible, only those tests that they believe are appropriate for each patient. The need for each test ordered should be documented by inserting a diagnosis code for each such test. Physicians should order such tests individually unless: (1) the test is specifically part of a CPT or HCPCS defined automated multi channel test series; (2) the test is part of a CPT defined “clinically relevant test grouping” such as an organ or disease panel; or (3) the test is part of a profile that has been customized at the request of the physician.

The laboratory will provide all physicians with annual written notices that set forth: (1) the Medicare medical necessity policy; (2) the individual components of every laboratory profile that includes an automated multiple test result; (3) the CPT or HCPCS codes that the laboratory uses to bill the Medicare program for each such profile.

The CPT or HCPCS codes selected for each laboratory test shall only be the code that most accurately describes the ordered and performed test. Claims will only be submitted with diagnostic information obtained from the ordering physician. The Hospital will only submit claims for tests that were both ordered and performed with the knowledge that the OIG considers the submission of a claim for tests that were either not covered or were not performed to be a potential false claim.

(d) Billing by Independent Contractors

The Hospital may contract with outside groups who perform professional services that result in patient billing. Hospital personnel will work with the independent contractor to maintain the accuracy of every claim that the contractor processes and submits.

If any hospital employee becomes aware of significant billing errors by the independent contractor, the Compliance Officer should be notified immediately.

4. Patient Referrals

Patient referrals are important to the delivery of appropriate health care services. Patients are admitted, or referred, to the Hospital by their physicians. Patients leaving the Hospital may be referred to other facilities, such as skilled nursing or rehabilitation facilities. Patients may also need durable medical equipment, home care, pharmaceuticals, oxygen, and may be referred to qualified suppliers of these items and services. The Hospital's policy is that patients, or their legal representatives, are free to select their health care providers and suppliers subject to the requirements of their health insurance plans. The choice of a hospital, a diagnostic facility, or a supplier should be made by the patient, with guidance from his or her physician as to which providers are qualified and medically appropriate.

Physicians and other health care providers may have financial relationships with the Hospital or its affiliates. These relationships may include compensation for administrative or management services, income guarantees, loans of certain types, or free or subsidized administrative services. In some cases, a physician may have invested as a part-owner in a piece of diagnostic equipment or a health care facility.

A federal law known as the "Stark law" applies to any physician who has, or whose immediate family member has, a "financial relationship" with an entity such as the Hospital, and prohibits referrals by that physician to the Hospital for the provision of certain designated health services reimbursed by Medicare and Medicaid. If a financial relationship exists, referrals are prohibited unless a specific exception is met. The Hospital requires that each financial relationship with a referring physician or his or her family member fit within one of the exceptions to the Stark law. Although responsibility for evaluating financial relationships with physicians lies with senior management and legal counsel. The manager of each department, the medical staff administration, and the payroll department are expected to monitor financial relationships and report any irregularities to the Compliance Officer.

The Stark law applies to the following types of services:

- clinical laboratory
- Physical therapy
- Occupational therapy
- Radiology (including MRI, CT, ultrasound, and mammography)
- durable medical equipment, parenteral and enteral nutrients
- equipment and supplies

- prosthetics and orthotics
- home health services
- outpatient prescription drugs
- inpatient and outpatient hospital services
- radiation therapy services and supplies.

The exceptions under the Stark law are complex, and several general rules must be followed. Both leases for physician office space and personal services contracts with physicians must be in writing, and signed by the parties. Any premises leased must be specified and must not exceed the space reasonably needed for the physician's legitimate purposes. Rental charges must be set in advance, at fair market value without regard to the volume or value of referrals by the physician. A lease must be commercially reasonable even if no referrals were made between the parties. Similarly, a personal service contract must specify the services to be provided by the physician to the Hospital, which must be reasonable and necessary for legitimate purposes, and must be for at least one year. Compensation paid to physicians must also be set in advance at fair market value, be unrelated to the volume or value of referrals, and be commercially reasonable. Contract services may not involve the counseling or promotion of an illegal business arrangement. Physician incentive plans, which may include volume-based compensation, will be acceptable if certain requirements are met.

Physicians purchasing clinical laboratory services or other items or services from the Hospital must pay fair market value. An arrangement whereby the Hospital bills for a group practice may be acceptable if it was in place prior to December 19, 1989 and meets certain other requirements. A pathologist, radiologist, or radiation oncologist may provide Hospital laboratory, pathology, diagnostic radiology, or radiation oncology services on his own order or on a consultation request from another physician.

Penalties for violating the Stark law include (i) no Medicare or Medicaid payment for the service referred illegally; (ii) a refund to the beneficiary of any amounts collected; (iii) fines of up to $15,000 levied on both the physician and the entity for each service referred illegally, plus additional fines based on the amounts billed; (iv) civil monetary penalties of up to $100,000 plus other assessments; and (v) exclusion from the Medicare or Medicaid programs.

5. Physician Recruitment

The recruitment and retention of physicians require special care to comply with Hospital policy and applicable law. Physician recruitment has implications under the anti-kickback laws, the Stark law, and the IRS rules governing the Hospital's tax-exempt status. Each recruitment package or commitment should be in writing, consistent with guidelines established with the Hospital. In general, support provided to a new physician is most likely to be acceptable if it is provided in order to persuade the physician to relocate to the Hospital's geographic service area in order to become a member of the professional staff, or if it is provided to a new physician completing his or her training. Support should be of limited duration. The physician cannot be required to refer patients to the Hospital, and the amount of compensation or support cannot be related to the volume or value of referrals. Income guarantees present special issues and should be reviewed by legal counsel on a case-by-case basis.

6. Physician Practice Acquisition

To improve the delivery of health care services, the Hospital may, from time to time, acquire physician practices. These acquisitions require special care to comply with applicable law because they have implications under the anti-kickback laws, the Stark law, and the IRS rules governing the Hospital's tax-exempt status.

(a) Anti-Kickback Laws

As discussed above, federal law makes it illegal for the Hospital to provide or accept "remuneration" in exchange for referrals of patients covered by Medicare or Medicaid. Acquisitions of physician practices may implicate the anti-kickback laws because they may constitute illegal payments to induce the referral of Medicare or Medicaid patients.

Generally, acquisitions will comply with federal law when the amounts paid by the Hospital reflect the fair market value of the acquired practice. Fair market value should be determined through an independent appraisal. Payments in excess of fair market value may violate the anti-kickback laws, particularly when there is an ongoing relationship between the Hospital and the acquired practice. Several specific types of payment are subject to scrutiny:

- payment for good will
- payment for value of ongoing business unit
- payment for covenants not to compete
- payment for exclusive dealing agreements
- payment for patient lists
- payment for patient records.

The "safe harbor" protections discussed above may also apply to a particular acquisition. Employees should not, however, make unilateral judgments on the availability of a safe harbor. These situations must be brought to the attention of legal counsel. Any proposed acquisition of a physician practice must be reviewed by legal counsel.

Violation of the anti-kickback laws is a felony, punishable by a $25,000 fine or imprisonment for up to five years, or both. Violation of the law could also mean that the Hospital and/or physicians are excluded from participating in the Medicare and Medicaid programs for up to five years.

In addition to the federal criminal penalties, Florida law provides additional penalties carrying fines of up to $10,000 and imprisonment of up to five years, or both.

(b) Stark Law

Physician practice acquisitions also implicate the Stark law discussed earlier. Because the law is particularly complex, all transactions must be reviewed by legal counsel to ensure compliance.

(c) IRS Scrutiny

The IRS retains authority to audit the activities of tax-exempt organizations. In particular, the IRS may revoke the Hospital's tax-exempt status if payments for the acquisition of group practices are deemed "excessive." While current, independent appraisals are important, equally important are the rationale and support for the reasonableness of the assumptions on which the valuation is based. Any questions should be directed to legal counsel.

7. Patient Transfers

Operation of the emergency department is an integral part of the Hospital's service to the community under its charitable mission. The emergency department is known as a place where any sick or injured person may come for care regardless of his or her ability to pay. The federal government has enacted EMTALA (an "anti-dumping" law) to ensure that patients are not transferred from a hospital emergency room to another facility unless it is medically appropriate.

Prompt and effective delivery of emergency care may not be delayed in order to determine a patient's insurance or financial status. Each patient who presents at the emergency department must receive an appropriate medical screening examination. Patients with emergency medical conditions, and patients in active labor, must be cared for in the Hospital's emergency department until their condition has stabilized. An emergency may include psychiatric disturbances, symptoms of substance abuse, or contractions experienced by pregnant women.

If necessary, the stabilized patient may be transferred to another hospital that is qualified to care for the patient, has space available, and has agreed to accept the transfer. Before transfer, Hospital staff shall provide the medical treatment which minimizes the risks to the patient's health and, in the case of a woman in labor, the health of the unborn child. A physician must sign a certification that the medical benefits reasonably expected from treatment at another medical facility outweigh the increased risks to the patient (and, if appropriate, the unborn child). No physician will be penalized for refusing to authorize the transfer of an individual with an emergency condition that has not been stabilized. The transfer must be performed by qualified personnel and transportation equipment, including life support measures during transfer if medically appropriate. A copy of the patient's record, including complete records of the emergency department encounter and any other records that are available must be sent to the receiving hospital.

The EMTALA "anti-dumping" law carries reporting obligations. Any employee who believes that an emergency patient has been transferred improperly must report the incident to Risk Management. No employee will be penalized for reporting a suspected violation of the patient transfer law. If an employee or professional staff member believes that an emergency patient has been transferred to the Hospital improperly, the suspected violation must be reported to Risk Management and to proper authorities within 72 hours of its occurrence. The name and address of any on-call physician who refuses or fails to appear within a reasonable time to provide necessary stabilizing treatment of an emergency medical condition or active labor is to be reported immediately to Risk Management.

In addition to the Hospital's medical records, the emergency department will maintain an on-call duty roster and a log documenting each individual who comes to the emergency department seeking assistance. The log must document whether the patient refused treatment or was refused treatment, transferred, was admitted and treated, stabilized and transferred, or discharged. When a patient or a patient's legal representative requests a transfer or refuses a transfer, the informed consent or refusal must be documented in writing. If there are questions about the records required under the patient transfer law, Risk Management will answer them or refer them to counsel.

The federal EMTALA "anti-dumping" law is enforced through civil monetary penalties and through damages in private civil actions. If a hospital violates the statute, it can be fined up to $50,000 for each violation. A physician, including an on-call physician, who is responsible for the examination, treatment, or transfer of an emergency patient and who negligently violates the law may be fined up to $50,000 for each violation. If the violation is gross and flagrant or repeated, the physician may be excluded from participation in the Medicare and Medicaid programs.

8. Market Competition

The Hospital is committed to complying with all state and federal antitrust laws. The purpose of the antitrust laws is to preserve the competitive free enterprise system. The antitrust laws in the United States are founded on the belief that the public interest is best served by vigorous competition, free from collusive agreements among competitors on price or service terms. The antitrust laws help preserve the country's economic, political, and social institutions; they apply fully to health care services provided by hospitals and physicians, and the Hospital is firmly committed to the philosophy underlying those laws.

While the antitrust laws clearly prohibit most agreements to fix prices, divide markets, and boycott competitors-- which are addressed below-- they also proscribe conduct that is found to restrain competition unreasonably. This can include, depending on the facts and circumstances involved, certain attempts to tie or bundle services together, certain exclusionary activities, and certain agreements that have the effect of harming a competitor or unlawfully raising prices. Any questions that might arise should be addressed to the Corporate Compliance Committee.

(a) Discussion with Competitors

Hospital policy requires that the rates it charges for Hospital care and related items and services, and the terms of its third party payor contracts, must be determined solely by the Hospital. In independently determining prices and terms, we may take into account all relevant factors, including costs, market conditions, widely used reimbursement schedules, and prevailing competitive prices, to the extent these can be determined in the marketplace. There can be, however, no oral or written understanding with any competitor concerning prices, pricing policies, pricing formulas, bids, or bid formulas, or concerning discounts, credit arrangements, or related terms of sale or service. To avoid the possibility of misunderstanding or misinterpretation, Hospital policy prohibits any consultation or discussion with competitors relating to prices or terms which the Hospital or any competitor charges or intends to charge. Joint ventures and affiliations that may require pricing discussions must be individually reviewed for antitrust compliance. Discussions with competitors concerning rationalization of markets, down-sizing, or elimination of duplication ordinarily implicate market division and must be avoided.

Hospitals are often asked to share information concerning employee compensation. Hospital policy prohibits the sharing with competing hospitals of current information or future plans regarding individual salaries or salary levels. The Hospital may participate in and receive the results of general surveys, but these must conform to the guidelines for participation in surveys provided under Trade Associations below.

Similarly, Hospital policy prohibits consultation or discussion with competitors with respect to its services, selection of markets, territories, bids, or customers. Any agreement or understanding with a competitor to divide markets is prohibited. This includes an agreement allocating shares of a market among competitors, dividing territories, or dividing product lines or customers.

(b) Trade Associations

The Hospital and its health care providers are involved in a number of trade and professional associations. These organizations promote quality patient care by allowing the Hospital and providers to learn new skills, develop policies and, where appropriate, speak with one voice on public issues. However, it is not always appropriate to share business information with trade associations and their members. Sharing information is appropriate if it is used to better inform consumers or to promote efficiency and competition.

The Hospital may participate in surveys of price, cost, and wage information if the survey is conducted by a third party and involves at least five comparably sized hospitals. Any price, cost, or wage information released by the Hospital must be at least three months old. If an employee is asked to provide a trade association with information about the Hospital's charges, costs, salaries, or other business matters, he or she should consult with Corporate Compliance. Joint purchasing through a trade association is probably acceptable, but any joint purchasing plan should be reviewed in advance by legal counsel. If an employee or professional staff member has any question or concern about an activity of a trade association, he or she may ask the Compliance Officer to seek guidance from legal counsel.

(c) Boycotts

Hospital policy prohibits any agreement with competitors to boycott or refuse to deal with a particular person or persons, such as a vendor, payor, or other provider. These agreements need not be written to be illegal; any understanding reached with a competitor (directly or indirectly) on such matters is prohibited. All negotiations by Hospital agents and employees must be conducted in good faith. Exclusive arrangements with payors, vendors, and providers must be approved by a member of senior management and based on an analysis of the relevant market.

(d) Physician Services

Hospital credentialing and peer review activities also may carry antitrust implications. Because of the special training and experience of physicians, their skills may best be evaluated by other physicians. It is appropriate for physicians to review the work of their peers. Because the physicians reviewing a particular physician may, by virtue of their medical specialties, be the physician's competitors, special care must be taken to ensure that free and open competition is maintained. As a result, credentialing, peer review and physician discipline at the Hospital are conducted only through properly constituted committees. Physicians participating in these activities are expected to use objective medical judgment.

If any Hospital employee is involved in negotiating a contract of employment or a personal services contract with a physician or other health care provider, it is important to review with care any non-competition provisions incorporated in the agreement. The appropriate geographic scope and duration of a non-competition agreement may vary from case to case. Questions about the appropriateness of a non-competition provision should be directed to legal counsel.

(e) Penalties

Penalties for antitrust violations are substantial. Individuals and corporations can be fined $350,000 and $10,000,000 respectively, for each antitrust violation, and individuals can be sentenced for up to three years in prison for each offense. In addition, actions giving rise to antitrust violations may violate other federal criminal statutes, such as mail fraud or wire fraud, under which substantial fines and even longer prison sentences can be imposed.

Antitrust violations also create civil liability. Private individuals or companies may bring actions to enjoin antitrust violations and to recover damages for injuries caused by violations. If successful, private claimants are entitled to receive three times the amount of damages suffered, plus attorneys' fees. Moreover, if the antitrust violation was a conspiracy, each member of that conspiracy may be liable for the entire damage caused by the conspiracy.

(f) Unfair or Deceptive Practices

In addition to the antitrust laws, the Hospital is committed to complying with other federal and state laws governing market competition. Federal law, particularly the Federal Trade Commission Act, and The Florida Deceptive and Unfair Trade Practices Act prohibit the use of "unfair or deceptive acts and practices," including the distribution of labeling, advertising, and marketing materials that are false or misleading. Hospital employees responsible for preparing and distributing such materials must be familiar with these laws. Questions about specific materials should be directed to Corporate Compliance before distribution.

Sanctions under this law usually take the form of "cease and desist" orders and may include civil penalties.

9. Tax-Exempt Organizations

As a non-profit hospital serving charitable purposes, the Hospital holds federal tax-exempt status. That is, the Hospital is exempt from paying federal income tax on most of its revenue. The Hospital also may accept tax-deductible charitable contributions from members of the community. Loss of exempt status would result in penalties, interest, and significant cost.

In order to qualify for tax exemption, the Hospital must be operated exclusively for charitable purposes. The Hospital must provide a community benefit, such as the promotion of health and the operation of an emergency department open to all. None of its earnings may inure to the benefit of any private individual. Any such "private inurement" could cause the Hospital to lose its tax-exempt status. A private person may not receive more than an incidental benefit from Hospital assets, measured against the overall community benefit provided by the Hospital.

Because the Hospital is dedicated to its charitable purposes, all contracts and agreements must be negotiated at arms length. Compensation provided to health professionals for recruitment, retention, employment, and personal services must be reasonable in the context of the services provided and the need for them. Reasonableness must be analyzed based on overall compensation and benefits. Areas of particular concern are below-market rents, compensation tied to Hospital or department revenues, income guarantees (especially where there is no obligation to repay), below-market loans, and loan guarantees. Any compensation arrangement involving one of these benefits must be reviewed by legal counsel. If an employee is aware of payments by the Hospital to a private individual or organization that may be unrelated to the Hospital's mission or in excess of fair market value, these circumstances should be disclosed to the employee's supervisor and reported to the Compliance Officer.

Any income derived from activities unrelated to the Hospital's charitable purposes shall be reported, and appropriate tax paid. Failure to report accurate compensation information may constitute fraud and could result in criminal prosecution as well as loss of exempt status for the Hospital.

10. Tax-Exempt Bonds

Because the Hospital's tax-exempt bonds (the "Bonds") are publicly traded securities, certain activities of the Hospital are subject to certain provisions of the federal securities laws. These laws govern the dissemination or use of information about the affairs of the Hospital or its affiliates. Federal securities laws also address the dissemination or use of information which might be of interest to persons considering the purchase or sale of the Bonds.

(a) Continuing Disclosure

The Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") requires continuing disclosure on municipal securities transactions by relevant parties. The Hospital is committed to carrying out its continuing contractual disclosure obligations involving health care revenue bond transactions, and shall make appropriate annual disclosures and all necessary periodic or material disclosures in a timely manner. In accordance with the Hospital's policy on insider trading and confidential information, employees will be reminded each year of their obligation to refrain from insider trading and disclosure.

(b) Insider Trading

It is generally illegal for any person, either personally or on behalf of others, (i) to buy or sell securities such as the Bonds while in possession of material nonpublic information, or (ii) to communicate (to "tip") material nonpublic information to another person who trades in the Bonds on the basis of the information or who in turn passes the information on to someone who trades. All employees, trustees, and professional staff members must comply with these "insider trading" restrictions.

Penalties for violating the insider trading rules include civil fines of up to three times the profit gained or loss avoided by the trading, criminal fines of up to $1,000,000, and imprisonment for up to 10 years. There can also be civil liability to those damaged by the trading. An employer whose employee violates the insider trading prohibitions may be liable for a civil fine of up to the greater of $1,000,000 or three times the profit gained or loss avoided as a result of the employee's insider trading violation.

All information that an investor might consider important in deciding whether to buy, sell, or hold securities is considered "material." Examples of some types of material information are:

- financial and operating results for the month, quarter or year
- financial forecasts, including proposed or approved budgets
- utilization statistics such as occupancy rates, payor mix, number of discharges and ambulatory visits, etc.
- awarding or loss of major research funding
- possible mergers, acquisitions, joint ventures and other purchases and sales of companies and investments in companies
- obtaining or losing important contracts
- major personnel or medical staff changes
- major litigation developments.

Information that is likely to affect the price of securities is almost always material.

Information is considered to be nonpublic unless it has been effectively disclosed to the public, for example by a press release. The information must not only be publicly disclosed, but there must also be adequate time for the market as a whole to digest the information. All information about the Hospital or its business plans is potentially "insider" information until publicly disclosed or made available by the Hospital. Thus, Hospital employees may not disclose it to others, such as relatives, friends, or business or social acquaintances, who do not need to know it for legitimate business reasons.

When an employee (or a member of the professional staff or trustee) knows material nonpublic information about the Hospital, he or she is prohibited from three activities:

- trading in the Bonds for his or her own account or for the account of another (including any trust of which the employee, member of the professional staff, or trustee is a trustee, or any other entity that buys or sells securities, such as a mutual fund)
- having anyone else trade for the employee
- disclosing the information to anyone else who then trades or in turn "tips" another person who trades.

Neither the employee nor anyone acting on the employee's behalf, nor anyone who learns the information from the employee, may trade for as long as the information continues to be materials and nonpublic.

If an employee, member of the professional staff, or trustee is considering buying or selling the Bonds and has a question as to whether the transaction might involve the improper use of material nonpublic information, that individual should obtain specific prior approval from legal counsel. Consultation with the individual's own attorney is also strongly encouraged.

All of us should remember that outsiders may be listening to us or watching us and may be able to pick up information they should not have. We should not, for example, discuss the Hospital's affairs in places where we can be overheard by others - - such as corridors, elevators, the cafeteria, other restaurants, and on cellular phones -- and we should be careful about how we handle and dispose of sensitive papers. Any questions or concerns about disclosure of nonpublic information should be brought to the Corporate Compliance Committee.

11. Waste Disposal

A hospital produces waste of various types. The Hospital is committed to safe and responsible disposal of biomedical waste and other waste products. Compliance with applicable federal and state environmental regulations requires ongoing monitoring and care. The Hospital uses a medical waste tracking system, biohazard labels, and biohazard containers for the disposal of infectious or physically dangerous medical or biological waste. Failure to follow the system could result in significant penalties to the Hospital. Employees who come into contact with biological waste should be familiar with the Hospital's medical waste policy and procedures, and should report any deviations from the policy to their supervisor or the Safety Officer.

The Hospital complies with the Clean Air Act, the Clean Water Act, the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act, and other federal and state laws and regulations governing the incineration, treatment, storage, disposal, and discharge of Hospital waste. If an employee suspects noncompliance or violation of any of these requirements, the circumstances should be reported to a supervisor or to the Safety Officer. Spills and releases of hazardous materials must be reported immediately, so that necessary reports can be made and cleanup can be initiated.

The Hospital supports ongoing legal and technical review to identify and correct environmental problems. The Hospital will initiate environmental assessments and compliance audits as appropriate. Failure to prevent, report, or correct environmental problems can result in criminal and civil penalties as high as $50,000 per day per violation, imprisonment for up to two years, or both. Even merely negligent violations can result in imprisonment and substantial fines if they pose a serious threat to human health.

12. Controlled Substances

The Hospital, through its pharmacy, is registered to compound and dispense narcotics and other controlled substances. Improper use of these substances is illegal and extremely dangerous.

The Hospital requires that its employees comply with the terms of the Hospital's controlled substances registration and with federal and state laws regulating controlled substances. Under Hospital policy, access to controlled substances is limited to persons who are properly licensed and who have express authority to handle them. No health care practitioner may dispense controlled substances except in conformity with state and federal laws and the terms of the practitioner's license. Employees should carefully follow recordkeeping procedures established by their departments and the pharmacy. Unauthorized manufacture, distribution, use, or possession of controlled substances by Hospital employees is strictly prohibited, and will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law. Any employee who knows of unauthorized handling of controlled substances is to provide the information immediately to his or her supervisor or the Pharmacy Director.

Federal and Florida law may impose sentences of up to life in prison and fines of up to $1,000,000. If the Hospital or its employee is convicted under federal or state law of unlawfully manufacturing, distributing, prescribing, or dispensing a controlled substance, the Hospital can be excluded from the Medicare and Medicaid programs.

13. Confidentiality

Hospital employees and health care professionals possess sensitive, privileged information about patients and their care. Patients properly expect that this information will be kept confidential. The Hospital takes very seriously any violation of a patient's confidentiality. Discussing a patient's medical condition, or providing any information about patients to anyone other than Hospital personnel who need the information and other authorized persons, will have serious consequences for an employee. Employees should not discuss patients outside the Hospital or with their families.

The Hospital is the owner of the medical record which documents a patient's condition and the services received by the patient at the Hospital. Medical records are strictly confidential, which means that they may not be released except with the consent of the patient or in other limited circumstances. Special protections apply to mental health records, records of drug and alcohol abuse treatment, and records relating to HIV infection. Medical records should not be physically removed from the Hospital, altered, or destroyed. Employees who have access to medical records must take pains to preserve their confidentiality and integrity, and no employee is permitted access to the medical record of any patient without a legitimate, Hospital-related reason for so doing. Any unauthorized release of or access to medical records should be reported to the Privacy Officer.

Florida Statute Sections 815 and 934 are designed to punish and deter computer crime. In compliance with the law, the Hospital prohibits unauthorized access to its computer system, either directly or by network or telephone. An individual who does not have a legitimate password will be held to know that access is unauthorized. The Hospital prohibits the destruction or corruption of electronically stored or processed data. Persons who violate these rules will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

14. Discrimination

The Hospital and its affiliates are committed to a policy of nondiscrimination and equal opportunity for all qualified applicants and employees, without regard to race, color, sex, religion, age, national origin, ancestry, disability, or sexual orientation. Our policy of non-discrimination extends to the care of patients. Discrimination may also violate state and/or federal anti-discrimination laws and trigger substantial civil penalties.

If an employee feels he or she or any patient has been discriminated against or harassed on the basis of his or her race, color, sex, or other protected category, he or she should contact Human Resources or Corporate Compliance so that an investigation may be initiated in accordance with Hospital policies and procedures. A patient who feels he or she has been the subject of unlawful discrimination or harassment is encouraged to contact the immediate caregiver, who will refer the matter to the appropriate Hospital personnel for investigation.

The Hospital is also strongly committed to complying with other federal and state laws governing employment. These laws include:

- the Americans with Disabilities Act
- the Employee Retiree Income Security Act
- the Occupational Safety and Health Act
- the Labor Management Relations Act
- the Age Discrimination in Employment Act
- the Fair Labor Standards Act
- the Immigration Reform and Control Act
- Florida Civil Rights Act

The human resources department can provide employees with information on these laws and can direct questions to the proper person.

15. Political Contributions

The Hospital believes that our democratic form of government benefits from citizens who are politically active. For this reason, the Hospital encourages each of its employees to participate in civic and political activities in his or her own way.

The Hospital's direct political activities are, however, limited by law. Corporations may not make any contributions -- whether direct or indirect -- to candidates for federal office. Thus, the Hospital may not contribute any money, or lend the use of vehicles, equipment, or facilities, to candidates for federal office. Nor may the Hospital make contributions to political action committees that make contributions to candidates for federal office. The Hospital may not require any employees or professional staff members to make any such contribution. Finally, the Hospital cannot reimburse its employees or professional staff members for any money they contribute to federal candidates or campaigns.

Violation of federal election laws carries potential criminal penalties of up to one year in jail and a fine of $25,000 or three times the amount of the illegal contribution, whichever is greater. Civil penalties also may be assessed. State law also limits the extent to which corporations may contribute to political candidates.

Consistent with its charitable purpose, the Hospital does not carry on "propaganda" or attempt to "influence legislation," as these acts are defined under the Internal Revenue Code. The Hospital and its representatives may not participate in or intervene in any political campaign for or against any candidate.

16. Purchasing

Purchasing decisions must be made in accordance with the Vendor Relations Hospital policy. In addition, the prohibitions discussed in Section 2 of this Manual entitled Payments, Discounts, and Gifts, apply to purchasing decisions made on behalf of the Hospital. Purchasing decisions must in all instances be made free from any conflicts of interest that could affect the outcome. See Section 18. The Hospital is committed to a fair and objective procurement system which results in the acquisition of quality goods and services for the Hospital at a fair price.

17. Fund-Raising

In furtherance of its charitable purposes, the Hospital conducts fund-raising activities through the Jackson Hospital Foundation. The Hospital complies with State of Florida registration, record-keeping, and reporting requirements with respect to its fund-raising activities. Hospital policy requires that all solicitation of charitable contributions to the Hospital or its affiliates must be done under the supervision of the Jackson Hospital Foundation. The Hospital does not authorize any employee or other individual to use the Hospital's name in any fund-raising activities not approved or supervised by the Jackson Hospital Foundation.

It is illegal for any employee or representative of the Hospital to make any false, deceptive, or misleading statement in connection with a solicitation of funds or a sale of goods or services to benefit the Hospital. It is against Hospital policy to use any sponsor or endorsement in connection with fund-raising activities unless the sponsor or endorsement has been verified by the Jackson Hospital Foundation.

If the Hospital or its employees violate the law on charitable donations, the Hospital could lose its ability to raise funds.

18. Conflicts of Interest

Hospital employees should avoid all potential conflicts of interest. Adherence to this policy ensures that the Hospital's employees act with total objectivity in carrying out their duties for the Hospital.

To this end, Hospital employees may not be employed by, act as a consultant to, or have an independent business relationship with any of the Hospital's service providers, competitors, or third party payors. Nor may employees invest in any payor, provider, supplier, or competitor (other than through mutual funds or through holdings of less than 0.5 percent of the outstanding shares of publicly traded securities) unless they first obtain written permission from Corporate Compliance.

Employees should not have other outside employment or business interests that place them in the position of (i) appearing to represent the Hospital, (ii) providing goods or services substantially similar to those the Hospital provides or is considering making available, or (iii) lessening their efficiency, productivity, or dedication to the Hospital in performing their everyday duties.

Employees may not use Hospital assets for personal benefit or personal business purposes. Employees may not have an interest in or speculate in products or real estate the value of which may be affected by the Hospital's business. Employees may not divulge or use the Hospital's confidential information -- such as financial data, payor information, computer programs, and patient information -- for their own personal or business purposes.

The Hospital shall not hire or contract with any individual or entity under sanction or exclusion by an authorized law enforcement, regulatory or licensing agency. Employees, contract employees, contractors or vendors who become designated as ineligible persons or who are charged with criminal conduct that could lead to exclusion from involvement in Federal health care programs shall be removed from responsibility for or involvement with federally funded healthcare programs until such time the person or entity is reinstated into participation with the health care programs.

19. Independent Contractors & Vendors

The Hospital purchases goods and services from many consultants, independent contractors, and vendors. As part of the Compliance Program, the hospital has instituted a Compliance Code of Conduct (Code of Conduct), which specifically address the conduct expected from all employees, contractors and agents. The Hospital's policy is that all contractors and vendors who provide items or services to the Hospital must comply with all applicable laws and Hospital policies. Each consultant, vendor, contractor, or other agent furnishing items or services worth at least $25,000 per year shall be given a copy of the Hospital's Code of Conduct and shall provide a written certification that it is aware of and will comply with the Hospital's Code of Conduct.

Contractors should bring any questions or concerns about Hospital practices or their own operations to the Director of Materials Management.

Hospital employees who work with consultants, contractors, and vendors or who process their invoices should be aware that the Hospital's Code of Conduct applies to those outside companies as well. Employees are encouraged to monitor carefully the activities of contractors in their areas. Any irregularities, questions, or concerns on those matters should be discussed with the Director of Materials Management and reported to Corporate Compliance.

20. Regulation

The Hospital operates in a highly regulated industry, and must monitor compliance with a great variety of highly complex regulatory schemes. The Hospital needs the cooperation of employees and professional staff members in complying with these regulations and bringing lapses or violations to light. While the regulatory schemes may not carry criminal penalties, they control the licenses and certifications that allow the Hospital to deliver care to its patients. The Hospital's continued ability to operate and serve the community depends upon each employee's help in regulatory compliance. Some of the regulatory programs which employees may deal with in the course of their duties include the following:

- AHCA Florida hospital licensure
- JCAHO accreditation
- Medicare certification and conditions of participation
- Determination of Need
- Controlled substance registration
- Pharmacy licensure and registration
- Clinical laboratory licensure and regulation
- Union rules and collective bargaining agreements
- Occupational Safety and Health regulation
- Building, safety, food service and fire codes
- Securities regulation.

The Risk Manager can provide employees with information on these rules, and can direct questions or concerns to the proper person.

21. Response to Investigations

State and federal agencies have broad legal authority to investigate the Hospital and review its records. The Hospital will comply with subpoenas and cooperate with governmental investigations to the full extent required by law. Risk management is responsible for coordinating the Hospital's response to investigations and the release of any information.

If a department, an employee, or a professional staff member receives an investigative demand, subpoena, or search warrant involving the Hospital, it should be brought immediately to Risk Management. Do not release or copy any documents without authorization from the Risk Manager or legal counsel. If an investigator, agent, or government auditor comes to the Hospital, contact the Risk Manager immediately. In their absence, contact the Hospital's Chief Executive Officer or a member of senior management. Ask the investigator to wait until his or her designee arrives before reviewing any documents or conducting any interviews. The Risk Manager, his or her designee, or legal counsel is responsible for assisting with any interviews, and the Hospital will provide counsel to employees, where appropriate. If Hospital employees are approached by government investigators and agents, the employee has the right to insist on being interviewed only at the Hospital, during business hours or with legal counsel present.

If a professional staff member receives an investigative demand at his or her residence or private office and the investigation may involve the Hospital, the staff member is asked to notify the Risk Manager immediately.

Hospital employees are not permitted to alter, remove, or destroy documents or records of the Hospital. This includes paper, tape, and computer records.

Subject to coordination by the Risk Manager, the Hospital and its employees will disclose information required by government officials, supply payment information, provide information on subcontractors, and grant authorized federal and state authorities with immediate access to the Hospital and its personnel. Failure to comply with these requirements could mean that the Hospital will be excluded from participating in the Medicare and Medicaid programs.

Subcontractors of the Hospital who provide items or services in connection with the Medicare and/or Medicaid programs are required to comply with the Hospital's policies on responding to investigations. Subcontractors must immediately furnish the Risk Manager, legal counsel, or authorized government officials with information required in an investigation.

22. Federally Funded Grants

The Hospital from time to time receives various federal grants such as grant funding from the National Institutes of Health. Federal regulations impose duties and obligations upon the recipients of federal grants. As a recipient institution, the Hospital expects its personnel to abide by all applicable federal regulations, including but not limited to regulations relating to accurate reporting and appropriate expenditure of grant funds. Questions relating to matters concerning federal grants should be directed to the Education Department to ensure that all regulations are observed.

23. Copyright Laws

The Hospital will obey all copyright laws in relation to written materials, software or any products protected under the copyright laws. Copyrighted material should not be copied or used for any purpose other than hospital business. Computer products and programs are licensed for hospital use only. Each employee is responsible for adherence to these laws and should report violations to the Compliance Officer.

24. Travel

Professional development is encouraged for all employees and this may require travel. All travel arrangements and accommodations should be selected with decorum and prudence in mind. First class travel is not authorized and lavish accommodations and meals are discouraged. Travel must be approved in advance and expenses must be documented appropriately. No employee may travel at the expense of a vendor without specific authorization by management.
